

University of Portland

Study Abroad & Financial Aid

Financial aid can help cover the costs of study abroad including tuition, fees, housing & meals, airfare, health insurance, in-country travel, and books. File a FAFSA for maximum aid eligibility.

Institutional Study Abroad

Programs hosted and run through UP are eligible for all types of federal, state, and institutional financial aid (except tuition exchange).

- Salzburg, Austria
- Galway, Ireland
- Granada, Spain
- London, England
- Global E3 (Engineering)
- Saint-Etienne, France
- Rome, Italy
- Perth (Fremantle), Australia
- Tokyo, Japan
- Nantes, France*
- Freiburg or Berlin, Germany*

*French and German majors studying on specific language immersion programs with IES during Fall/Spring are eligible for institutional, federal, and state aid with approval from the Study Abroad Office.

IES Study Abroad

UP has a partial consortium agreement with IES. Therefore, only federal and state aid may be used for most IES programs.

Other Study Abroad

Other programs are not eligible for financial aid through UP. Check with the host institution to see if you are eligible for aid.

What types of aid are available for semester or yearlong programs?

- UP scholarships and grants (if participating in a UP approved program)
- Federal grants, if eligible
- State grants, if eligible
- Outside scholarships
- Federal Direct loans
- Institutional loans
- Private / Alternative loans

What types of aid are available for summer programs?

- Federal grants, if eligible
- Federal Direct loans
- Institutional loans
- Private / Alternative loans

1) File a FAFSA. Required for federal and state aid, including federal loans.

2) Questions? Make an appointment with a financial aid counselor.

3) Apply for outside scholarships. Check out these resources:

Study Abroad Office: <https://www.up.edu/studyabroad/students/study-abroad-scholarships.html>

Financial Aid Office: <https://www.up.edu/finaid/scholarships-and-grants/outside-scholarships.html>.